Frequently asked questions

What is Low Income Subsidy (also known as "Extra Help")?

Medicare beneficiaries with limited income and resources may qualify for a Medicare program called Extra Help. This program may significantly lower their prescription drug copays, deductibles, and coinsurance. It may also significantly lower their monthly premium for their Part D plan (PDP or MAPD plan).

Who qualifies for the subsidy?

In 2024, Medicare beneficiaries qualify if they have up to $22,590 in yearly income ($30,660 for a married couple) and up to $15,720 in resources ($31,360 for a married couple). If the enrollee has notified the Social Security Administration (SSA) that they will use resource monies for burial expenses, the numbers are $17,220 (single) and $34,360 (married). SSA does not count your home, one car, burial plot, furniture, or household items. Resources that do count include: Money in a checking or savings account, stocks, and bonds. These amounts may change in 2025.

How (and when) can someone apply?

Some people are automatically enrolled in Extra Help. Others need to apply for the program by contacting the SSA or applying online at SSA.gov. Medicare beneficiaries can apply for Extra Help at any time.

When can they enroll in an MAPD or a PDP plan?

Medicare beneficiaries who qualify for Extra Help can enroll in a new plan (or change plans) up to once per quarter, during the first three quarters of the year.

What if they don't want a plan with prescription drug coverage?

Individuals who qualify for Extra Help can "decline" the help and choose to enroll in an MA-only plan. If they do this, they should notify their carrier that they do not want the subsidy. Otherwise, Medicare will contact their plan to auto-enroll them in the least-expensive MAPD plan they offer.

What are the subsidy levels for prescription drugs?

There are four levels of premium assistance: 100%, 75%, 50%, and 25%. The percentage means that Medicare will pay that percentage of the cost of the prescription drug plan premium (based on a standard premium amount). There are three levels of prescription drug copay/deductible assistance. Each level provides a different amount of financial assistance for prescription drugs.
